

Angel Risk Management's BRISTOL 2017 broker forum

TUESDAY 17TH OCTOBER 2017

The Angel broker forum has been created to give delegates a more interesting experience than the usual sort of insurance event you might be used to. Our aim is to enlighten you on two of the hottest topics currently being talked about, Terrorism and Cyber and bring you right up to date on the latest sports and leisure and marine cargo trends.

Our panel of speakers are real experts in their field, our Terrorism and Cyber presenters both work for organisations that offer hands on risk management consulting and event response services in these specialist areas. They bring first-hand knowledge of not just what you might have seen and read about in the news but some of the lesser known facts behind the news and what we might see in the not too distant future.

We supplement these subjects with presentations from experienced XL Catlin underwriters from the sports and leisure and marine cargo teams, both of whom have facts and figures that might surprise and possibly even amaze you.

Representatives from a variety of underwriting disciplines will also be present for you to discuss your insurance needs and these and our panel of speakers will be available during registration, over a bacon roll and a cuppa, during the mid-morning coffee break and afterwards during the buffet lunch.
